ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY
WITH THE
PUNTI AND MANDARIN
PRONUNCIATION.
An ANALECTA CHINESE DICTIONARY, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.
FOR comprehensiveness and practical service this work stands unrivalled. All the new words, and upwards of 60,000 Chinese characters, are here embodied in a volume, which has been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in Chinese and English, and every word is thoroughly illustrated and explained, forming a compendium for students of a most instructive nature.
Both the Court and Puncti pronunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on the Chinese words, and the Puncti and the typewriting displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the use of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and disposing with large margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications.
To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following names are selected for consideration.
Biblical names. Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 60,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications of terms are perfectly acquired. To this work one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto published.
For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with the natives who use the Chinese characters. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it extends subjects fully with which very few indians resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be of invaluable occasion.
It comprises upwards of two thousand large narrative pages.
